2. Customer journey

Persona 1: Carlos Ruiz (The Overwhelmed Owner)

Section	Step 1: Discovery & Setup	Step 2: Daily Operations	Step 3: Financial Monitoring	Step 4: Tax Deadline	Step 5: Growth & Loyalty
Customer Needs	Needs a legal guarantee that he is Verifactu compliant without technical jargon.	Needs to see if the morning rush was actually profitable after costs.	Needs to know if he has enough cash to pay rent and utilities next week.	Needs to send tax data to Marta (Gestora) without opening Excel.	Needs to see if adding a new pastry category is a good investment.
Key Moment	Carlos sees the Verifactu Certified badge on the setup screen.	He glances at the Net Profit gauge on his phone between serving customers.	He checks the Survival Clock (Runway) on a quiet Sunday afternoon.	One click export of the Immutable Ledger for the quarter.	Dashboard shows a 15% margin increase on a specific product.
Satisfaction	Relieved (Happy): Setup took 5 minutes, no IT expert needed.	Empowered (Neutral/Happy): He knows exactly what he earned today.	Calm (Happy): The app shows 45 days of runway, he can sleep better.	Victory (Very Happy): No bad experience on the spreadsheets.	Confident (Happy): He feels like a real CEO not just a barista.

2. Customer journey

Persona 2: Lucía Martínez (The Efficient Barista)

Section	Step 1: Clocking In	Step 2: The Morning Rush	Step 3: Handling Incidents	Step 4: Inventory Check	Step 5: Clocking Out
Customer Needs	Needs to quickly log her start time so her payroll is accurate.	Needs a POS interface that processes transactions in under 5 seconds.	Needs to log a spilled liter of milk (wastage) so the stock isn't off.	Needs an alert if coffee bean stock is getting critically low.	Needs to see her total hours worked for the day/week.
Key Moment	A simple start shift tap on the tablet with a PIN.	Tapping “Oat Latte” and seeing the QR code generate instantly.	Tapping a “Merma” (waste) button to remove an item from stock.	Receiving a push notification: “Only 2kg of beans left.”	Summary screen showing 8.5 hours worked today.
Satisfaction	Organized (Happy): No manual paper logbooks to lose.	Fast (Very Happy): The system keeps up with her speed, no customer wait.	Efficient (Neutral): Logging waste is easy, it's not a chore.	Proactive (Happy): She can warn Carlos to order more beans before they run out.	Transparent (Happy): She trusts her paycheck will be correct.

2. Customer journey

Persona 3: Marta Salgado (The Precise Gestora)

Section	Step 1: Client Onboarding	Step 2: Monthly Review	Step 3: Anomaly Detection	Step 4: Tax Submission	Step 5: Audit Defense
Customer Needs	Needs to verify that Carlos's new software is actually compliant.	Needs to download the month's sales without chasing him for receipts.	Needs to be alerted if any record was attempted to be altered.	Needs the total IVA (VAT) totals formatted for Spanish tax models.	Needs a 100% traceable chain of hashes to show a tax inspector.
Key Moment	Marta logs into her gestora portal and sees Carlos's shop is linked.	Downloading a single ZIP file with all immutable invoices.	The integrity report shows all hashes match perfectly.	Copy pasting the totals into Modelo 303 in minutes.	Presenting the immutable ledger as evidence of compliance.
Satisfaction	Professional (Happy): She has control over the fiscal data stream.	Efficient (Happy): No more scanning crumpled pieces of thermal paper.	Secure (Very Happy): She knows the numbers haven't been fixed by the client.	Productive (Happy): Her work takes 70% less time than for other clients.	Invincible (Very Happy): She can defend the client with zero doubt.